invites you to join our

Saturday Artistic Workshop – June 29, 2019

10:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. with break for lunch

Painting with Sara Parrilli

Come explore the language of color with wet-on-wet watercolor. We will travel around the spectrum, allowing the colors to speak to us, revealing their unique qualities. How does the mood of color lead into form? Can we find the doorway into the qualitative realm so that the colors may work on us? How can an image from a story or an experience from nature be brought into being through the language of color?

Sara Parrilli is an artist and Waldorf art teacher, residing in Columbia County, New York. She holds a B.A. in Fashion Design, and completed a two-year painting training at the Free Columbia Art Course, as well as a teacher preparation program at the Alkion Waldorf Teacher Training. She currently teaches middle and high school art at the Hawthorne Valley Waldorf School in Ghent, NY. In addition, Sara is a children's book illustrator and paints interior spaces using the watercolor "lazure" technique. She loves to travel, bake, cook, knit, sew her own clothes, and spend time in nature.
